

References

Ash S, Phillip S. What is dietetic competence? Competency Standards, competence and competency explained. AustralianJ Nutr Diet 2000 57:3,147-157

Ash S, Gonzci A, Hager P. Combining research methodologies to develop competency-based standards for dietitians: a case study for the professions. National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition Research Paper No 6. Canberra: Australian Government Publishing Service: 1992.

DAA (1993) National Competency Standards for Entry Level Dietitians, www.daa.asn.au.

DAA (2005). Advanced Practitioner and Fellow competencies, www.daa.asn.au (Members' section)

Gonzci A, Hager P, Oliver L. Establishing competency-based standards in the professions. National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition Research Paper No 1. Canberra: Australian Government Publishing Service: 1990.

Masters GN, McCurry D. Competency-based assessment in the professions. National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition Research Paper No 2. Canberra: Australian Government Publishing Service: 1990.

Phillips S, Ash S, Tapsell L (a). Relevance of the competency standards to entry level practice. Aust J Nutr Diet 2000;57:198-207.

Phillips S, Ash S, Tapsell L (b). Dietitians' views on the current competency standards for entry level dietitians. Aust J Nutr Diet 2000;57:190-197.